

Biography: Nicole Hall

Nonpoint Source Program
Water Quality Planning Division
Texas Commission on Environmental Quality

Current Position

Nicole Hall is a project manager for the Nonpoint Source Program at TCEQ.

Prior Experience and Education

Nicole received her Bachelor of Science degree in Wildlife Biology from Texas State University and then attended Texas A&M University where she received a master's in Water Management and Hydrological Science.

Nicole has been with the Nonpoint Source Program since 2015. As project manager, Nicole has managed multiple types of projects including the development of watershed protection plans, septic system replacements, and the implementation of low impact development.

Contact Information

Telephone: 512-239-6609

Email: Nicole.Hall@tceq.texas.gov